CUB 123 SCOUTS

FOR USE IN MULTI-AGE DENS

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA®

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

By following the den meeting plans in this booklet, Cub Scouts of any age will complete the requirements for their Wolf badge.

- The exercises in the pamphlet titled How to Protect Your Children From Child Abuse: A Parent's Guide may be completed by the Scout with his parent, guardian, or other caring adult (including a den leader). The Cyber Chip portion of this requirement may be waived if the Scout does not have access to the internet.

Refer to the Wolf Handbook for detailed information about each advancement activity. By using the handbook and with some preparation, leaders can deliver to Scouts a robust program that is consistent with that of single-age Cub Scout dens. This program differs from the single-age program in that it allows Scouts of a variety of ages, and with somewhat limited resources, to complete it. This program, like the single-age program, leads to each Scout's advancement and character development.

Recognizing the Scouts' accomplishments is an important part of Cub Scouting. Consider presenting each Scout with his adventure belt loop at the conclusion of each meeting where an adventure is completed. Make the presentations of the Bobcat badge and Wolf badge special events for the Scouts.

By following these meeting plans, Scouts will earn the Wolf badge at the conclusion of Meeting 11 and will be recognized for their achievements at Meeting 12. The remaining meeting plans can be used to fill your program year with activities from the handbook.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THOSE LEADING A DEN MEETING:

- Your first den meeting will likely be each child's first Scouting experience.
- In each den meeting plan in this booklet, you will see a section titled "Preparation and Materials Needed." Far in advance of each meeting, review this section and complete the preparation.
- Refer to each adventure in the Wolf Handbook for important information about the advancement activities in each meeting.
- Arrive early at each den meeting to prepare and set up. The tone you set at the first meeting will determine, to a large extent, the success of your year. Be completely organized prior to the start of the meeting.
- Wear your adult uniform.
- Explain clearly to the Scouts what the behavioral expectations are and what the consequences will be. Be friendly but firm with the Scouts.
- Ask your co-leader or parent helper to arrive at least 15 minutes before the meeting's start time. He or she can help you with final preparations before the Scouts arrive.
- Having a snack at a den meeting is optional. If you choose to have a snack, plan the time for it so the meeting does not extend past the scheduled ending time. Be sure to ask parents and guardians about any food allergies their Scout has.
- You may wish to designate one Scout as the denner at each meeting. To give each Scout an equal opportunity for this experience, rotate the Scouts alphabetically. The denner is the "special person" at each meeting, carries the U.S. flag for the flag ceremony, and acts as a leader for that meeting's activities. Denner cords may be worn on the uniform when it is a Scout's turn to serve as denner.
- You may wish to distribute a parent information letter at the conclusion of each meeting. The letter informs parents what was completed at each meeting and provides information on upcoming den and pack meetings and activities. Parents appreciate good communication. Prepare the letter prior to each meeting.
- Complete Youth Protection training and renew it every two years.

CUB 123 SCOUTS

FOR USE IN MULTI-AGE DENS

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA®

MEETING 1: ADVANCEMENT TO BE COMPLETED BOBCAT BADGE

PREPARATION AND MATERIALS NEEDED

- Wolf Handbook for each Scout
- Copies of the Scout Oath and Scout Law if not everyone has a handbook
- U.S. flag
- Flag stand (optional)
- Den flag and stand (optional)
- Brief icebreaker game, since this may be the first time the participants meet
- Parent information letter (optional; see above)

OPENING CEREMONY

Play an icebreaker game, unless all of the meeting participants know one another already. An example of an icebreaker is to have the den gather in a circle. Choose someone to begin the game (perhaps the person with the last name that starts closest to the letter "Z" and then work through the circle). Have that person say his name and then act out (pantomime) his favorite sport or hobby.

FLAG CEREMONY. Choose the first Scout alphabetically to be your denner and carry the U.S. flag. The second Scout will be the denner for the next meeting and will carry the den flag today, if you choose to have a den flag. The third and fourth Scouts are the color guards. (At subsequent meetings, rotate through the Scouts alphabetically.) The remaining Scouts in the den and all adults form a reviewing line that the color guard passes on the way to the flag stands. The den leader can call the flag ceremony (see below) at the first few meetings until the Scouts learn how to do so. After the flags are posted, have all recite the Pledge of Allegiance and then read the Scout Oath and Scout Law from the backs of the handbooks.

- "Color guard, advance."—Scouts walk in unison with the flag(s) to the front of the room.
- "Color guard, post the colors."—Scouts place the flag(s) in the flag stand(s).
- Say the Pledge of Allegiance.
- Say the Scout Oath and Scout Law.
- "Color guard, dismissed."—Scouts leading the flag ceremony join the other meeting participants and the meeting begins.

ADVANCEMENT ACTIVITIES

- Scouts will complete Bobcat requirements 1-6 (see the Wolf Handbook). Remind the Scouts and their parents to complete Bobcat requirement 7 at home if it was not completed in this meeting.
